Jackson Units Prepare Fete

Eugene Webb, editor Dick Roberts, associate editor

Children of the fourth, fifth and sixth grades at Jackson elementary school are preparing for the May Iestival by learning songs of different countries, according to Marilyn Smith.

Third grade pupils have held a bird house contest. The winners were Diana Petit, first prize, with a bird house that looked like a log cabin; Norma Anderson, second, with a bird house that looked like a church; and Jack Mitchel, third. Feuro Fulli is property for this group.

Doriene Brown says the children are learning poems and plays to present for the enjoyment of the other classes. First graders are making Mother's day cards, says Stella Robinson.

Last Thursday was Child Health day, reports Audrey Earnshaw. The children recited poems about health and dramatized plays for each other.

Washington Class Hears of Mexico

Andrew Curtis, editor Jo Anne Eckery, associate editor

Fifth and sixth graders of Washington school enjoyed a lecture that Mrs. Florence Pierce gave last week. She had colored slides, baskets, dolls and other things from Mexico. The children want to thank her and Miss Lucile Barker, who was kind enough to ask her to come, for the lecture and the fine time we had.

May started out at our school with a bang. One class in the second grade went around the block looking at flowers, trees, and house shrubbery. The fifth grade art teacher, Miss Minnie B. Williams, took all her classes out to draw trees, and the other grades went on a May walk. Five baseball games have been Five baseball games have been held at our school. The team of which Gordon Glaus is captain defeated Billy Come's team by a score of 18 to 14. The boys on Cordon's team said, "They're plenty good and really know how to play ball." The winning team hasn't far to go to be the Washington school champions.

It was "Tall Tales" day in Miss Melba Clark's room. The children would tell tales they made up. Then they voted upon the one they thought was the best. Billy they thought was the best, Billy Grahm, Andrew Curtis, and John Carlson were the winners.

Jail Stay Extended

Thirty additional days in jail is the price Aino Seeronen, 34, must pay for three days of freedom, City Judge Frank E. Moss decreed Tuesday when Seeronen pleaded guilty to an escape charge. The defendant had 61 days remaining to serve on a sentence for drunkenness when he walked out of the public safety building while working as a "trusty." The 30-day sen-tence meted out Tuesday will be served after completion of the previous term.
